Standoff ends, engg, medical seat matrix to be out today

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Bengaluru: The fortnight-long nightmare for aspiring engineers and doctors who have qualified in respective entrance tests is set to end with the government and private professional colleges resolving the stalemate over fee hike.

On Saturday, the complete seat matrix for engineering and medical courses will be published on the Karnataka Examinations Authority (KEA) website, paving the way for the first round of counselling for government quota BE, BArch, MBBS and BDS seats in government and private colleges.

"We have requested the higher education department (for engineering) and the directorate of medical Education (DME) to send the entire seat matrix and fee structure, discipline-wise, college-wise and category-wise, by Friday evening so that we can put it up on the website for students by Saturday evening. DME wants to initiate the process of counselling by allowing students to start selecting options for mock seat allotment by July 7 and we should be able to do that. For engineering, we will give students a three-day window to select options," said K Vinothpriya, executive director of KEA.

On Thursday, the government decided to increase fee by 10% in private engineering colleges for both government and ComedK quota, though the Fee Regulatory Committee had capped the hike at 8% for engineering, medical and dental courses in private colleges. Medical and dental colleges, however, have settled for an 8% hike.

Following resolution of the stalemate, the higher education department signed a consensual agreement with Karnataka Unaided Private Engineering Colleges Association (KUPECA).

"The committee had no basis to fix the fee. The hike approved on Thursday has some basis but it's still not enough for many institutions. Colleges with admissions lower than 50% last year will conveniently opt to cut cost by reducing staff, because All India Council for Technical Education's new direction allows colleges to have a teacher-student ratio of 1:20. But the quality of education will suffer," said M K Panduranga Shetty, chairman of RV College of Engineering and secretary of KUPECA.

DME said the maximum fee to be charged for government quota seats in private colleges will be Rs 97,350 for MBBS and Rs 63,030 for BDS. It has also signed a consensual agreement with three associations of private medical and dental colleges. There are 43 medical and 38 dental colleges in the state. The seat matrix will not reflect eight colleges that lost Medical Council of India (MCI) recognition this year.

DME BARGAINS WITH DEEMED UNIVS FOR SEATS

The eight deemed medical/dental universities in the state have already filled up maximum seats through the first round of all-India National Eligibility cum Entrance Test (NEET) counselling, conducted by the directorate general of health services (DGHS). "We are still in talks with deemed universities to share some seats with the government to admit Karnataka-domicile students. As per our information, 300-odd students haven't reported to these colleges after the first round of counselling and we are bargaining to get the seats under the government quota," said an official in DME.

Meanwhile, DGHS has begun the second round of counselling, and the unfilled seats will be shared with the government to conduct the second round of counselling through KEA, after July 24.

New fee committee

Higher education minister GT Devegowda and medical education minister DK Shivakumar have agreed to set up a new fee fixation committee. "It will have members from college managements too. I am hoping it will follow some basic standards and methodology to approve fee hikes," said

VTU paper leak: Professor suspended

BELAGAVI, DHNS: A professor of a private engineering college has been suspended for reportedly leaking the question paper of 'Basic Determination Sector Analysis' subject of the 4th semester, Civil Engineering course of Visvesvaraya Technological University (VTU).

The varsity has scheduled the reexamination on July 11.

VTU VC Dr Karisiddappa said, "The examination for the subject was scheduled on June 22, but question paper was in circulation on WhatsApp since June 20. The enquiry indicated involvement of a professor of a private college."

"We didn't disclose the professor's details as admissions for the first year engineering were on. We will recover examination costs from him," he stated and added, "The question paper of the 2nd semester Maths-II were circulated through WhatsApp in Bengaluru and Chikkamagaluru after exam. There won't be any reexamination. The marks recording process is encrypted and there is no tampering."
